Gross receipts, it is true, were larger than during the previous years, and, no doubt, it has struck you as peculiar that whilst these have grown, the 2cit profits are little more then shewn in 1900. This, gentlemen, is due to larger expenditure, fereneoing which we slightly raised some of the rates at the beginning only one result to football of this stamp, as of the year, but, notwithstanding this, it allowed the Fusiliers to get down upon saptured General Cherry-Emmett, Louis profits have not kept pace with receipts. him in force or to open out for a likely pass. The causes of this you are no doubt familing with, and I need not therefore refer to them further than to mention the continued fall in exchange, with its inevitable rise in the price of commodities and labour, whilst measures for prevention of Plague have been costly, and expenditure in almost all directions has increased. There is, however, one source of expenditure, and a large few words of explanation. With expansion of business and the increasing responsibility entailed by the custody of so many millions worth of goods, compled with the difficulty of obtaining satisfactory service from Chinese, it became apparent in 1941, the Siege Train beat 'H' Co. to your Directors some eighteen months ago R.W.F., in the final; and this season, 'A hat a radical change was desirable in the Co. defeated 'H' Co., R.W.F., in the personnel of the staff; that the business was getting beyond the capabilities of the Chinese employes unnided by Europeans, and considerably more Ruropean supervision was nocessary Accordingly, the staff of Europeans was nugmented, and, although the expense has they played was worth more than the 3-2

RECREATION NOTES.

I went down to the football final on Saturday, and was disappointed with the play. It was the poorest football that. I have yet seen in a final tiu in Hougkong, and was, in my opinion, a distinct falling off from the football played by the Conturion and Kowloon teams in the early contests and by the Hongkong F.C. a year or two ago, This was the only tie I had seen this seeson, and judging from what I saw on Saturday the Hongkong F.C.'s socker team must he very poor indeed to be lienten by a team. like the Glory's, or else the sailors played very far below their usual form. With the exception of the burst at the end, when the soldiers eased off a bit and were obviously caught napping, the game was devoid of reaexciting football. There was only one toans in if-and that was the Fusiliers. Their forwards seemed to have a right idea of forward play, to get the ball and keep it and get it down to the opposing goal. When be got the ball the Glory's centre forward went on a croise with it, and it was immaterial to him whether he travelled towards his own goal or the other. There could be The game was really won by the Fusiliers half-backs, whose only fault-and it was a had one in half-backs-was in kicking too strongly. The centre forward and right wing all played a fairly good game, and the right game against a weak back like one, concerning which it is right to give Sherbrooke. The Glory goalkeeper and right back were the best men on that side, and had the half-backs played with more dash and assurance and the forwards anything like a decent forward game the match might have been worth looking at,

> As it was, as I have already said, it was a sorry exhibition of Association football. While saying this, I must agree that the Fusiliers deserved their win. The game result, and with a little luck might have been 5 or 8 to wil. 'A 'Company, besides, put out 'H' Company, which was, from all Thear, probably the best combination in the competition. For the sake of the game in Hongkong, I hope the Rangers will keep going next season, instead of going to pieces after being 'pilled' in the competition, for with two local civilian clubs of average merit, the play all round raight easily be improved.

> This, year, it is the Rugby section of the Hongkong F.C. that is on the top of the wave. It was unfortunate not to beat the Naval team last week; buf, as one of the Navel players said, it was one of the Club's off-days, and the result was a draw. That the ground was far too hard for the carrying code was amply evinced by the condition of several of the players at the end of the

The following notes on the game have been sent me :- The Navy kicked off facing the sun, and the reply by Pearce found touch past the centre. Several loose scrums came out to the Club three-quarters, and from a good pass by Pearce. Robertson almost scored, being hustled into touch at the corner. The Navy were playing a good forward game, and were repeatedly dangerons, but fortunately for the Club their one occasion, the ball went to Ben Johnson and, following up, had tackled his man before he could get rid of the ball. Clark, who was backing up well, picked up, and dodging the back, scored beneath the posts. McMurtrie converted with his usual good kick. Give and take play followed, and halftime came with the Club leading by one goal to nil. The second half started with the Navy pressing, that immediately the Club relieved. From a throw in, Sandford got the ball and passed to Jordan; Jordan passed to Barner, who might have scored had he tried himself; but with the usual unselfishness of the Britisher he passed to Robertson, who was pushed into touch at the flag. From the resulting throw out, Smyth got over, but was given held outside. Then the Navy bucked up, and Knox passing foolishly, a Navy manpromptly picked up, rushed past Johnson, and scored. From the easy position, the try was converted. It was a ding-dong game to the end, and a draw was the

The game all through was very even. It would be hard to say who had the bost of quarters played a very good game, and so also did the full-back, whose picking up Mr and kicking were first-class. The Club forwards played very much below their usual ford, whose play is improving every game Pearce was the best of the three-quarters, who were very weak in passing. Burke and Jordan both played well at half, and Johnson excelled himself. I noticed only Mr. one mistake of his, throwing away the ball when none of his own side was near.
